

As The Gater
Sees
It....

By FRANK SCHWASS

The Music Federation, allegedly the most powerful group in the school insofar as swinging votes go, had a large egg during the past election when they failed to back their candidate to the hilt. Only about 150 of the estimated 350-400 members cast their votes for their candidate. As far as we are concerned, however, all these elections are a lot of phoney-baloney. We remember with distaste the election several semesters back when a Herman Boettcher was running for treasurer of the Student Body and lost to a candidate who was unable to fulfill the candidate requirements. Incidentally, Mr. Boettcher lost because he had such beliefs as the hope for world peace, the wish that the living conditions of the people might be bettered, and the desire for a true American democracy—in other words, he was a radical. The campaign against this student was the funniest that ever hit State and there is no reason to believe that elections since then have been materially lessened.

Any money made over and above expenses incurred for the Junior Jam will be given to the State Loan Fund for the aid of needy students. This move on the part of the Low Junior Class which is sponsoring the event and Mr. K. Johnson who is heading the dance committee, deserves the highest commendation and support from all students. The grand door prize, a full-paid tuition for the Fall term, is an added incentive for support. According to Mr. Johnson, the tickets will be thirty-five cents and the winning student need not be present at the dance in order to win the prize. The dance will be held in the Gal's Gym, Friday night, May 6.

The Inaugural Ball, according to those who were present, proved to be an unqualified success both socially and financially. Much of the credit for the enthusiasm shown by the assembled multitude goes to Mr. T. Guiney, publicity chairman for the group. Several organizations were supposed to have co-operated in the promulgation of the event but Mr. G's group was the only one which really got in and worked. Incidentally, the local Chapter of the American Newspaper Guild will present several awards to outstanding neophyte journalists at the publications dinner on May 6. These awards should be a welcome relief from the prizes given heretofore which consisted of scholarships to prize-winning newsmen practically all of whom fell down badly when at State.

Tuition Offered For Door Prizes At Junior Jam Friday

Tickets Now On Sale To Final Floor Show In Frederic Burk

One fifteen dollar tuition to San Francisco State College is offered as the door prize for the Low Junior class "Jam" dance, presented in the gym Friday, May 6, from 9 to 1, following the Gala Rally Talent Parade held in the Frederic Burk auditorium at 7:30. Tickets are on sale for 35 cents each. The Jam dance floor show will feature the winners of the final Rally Talent Parade contest.

Money In Loan Fund

"All the money taken in at the dance, exceeding $100, will be placed in the college loan fund," stated Kenneth Johnson, president of the low Junior class. "This is the first effort of any class to offer a scholarship to State. We hope to start this as an annual affair with the proceeds going into the general student body loan fund." Everyone is eligible to win except the class officers and members of the committee.

The holder of the winning ticket need not be present at the dance to collect.

ORPHIC OUT MAY 9, FEATURES HURNING, MANTELL POETRY

Poems of Misses Sibyl Hurning and Dorothy Mantell, which are being printed in "First The Blade," an annual California College Students Anthology, will be among the many manuscripts composing the Orphic, Scribes Club magazine, now on sale. The magazine will be published May 9, but tickets must be purchased before that date.

"First The Blade," published each year by a different California College, is sponsored by Mills College this year.

The American Newspaper Guild award for literature will be another feature of the Orphic. Mrs. Ruth Witt-Diamant, Mrs. Frank Fenton, and Mrs. Hugh Baker of the college English department are judges for this award.

The Orphic is being published for the first time in two years and is under the direction of Dorothy Mantell, editor; Jean Gilleran, assistant editor; Sibyl Hurning, business manager; and Jean Dooley, assistant business manager. The editorial board which judged the articles is composed of Jean Lynch, Peggy Cleghorn, Henry Glass, Miss Mantell, and Miss Gilleran.

ANOTHER SENIOR WORRY!

— Editorial —

Grave matters of importance are cast to the windward by the very honorable administration in their latest move that bans Senior Week. The action of the Deans in failing to schedule early examinations means that the Senior class will lose the traditional ceremonies that mark the termination of their college careers. Following the examination schedule as set forth by the Deans means that Senior grades will be in just one day before graduation.

The loss of the Senior week activities is only a minor catastrophe. The loss of the chance to compete with graduates of the other colleges for jobs is the major problem that faces the Seniors, especially those in the teaching field.

There is the personal end too, especially for those Seniors who are on the borderline. The preparations for the graduation ceremonies mean much to all and with the fact that final grades will leave one meager day for the Senior announcements and graduation preparations is rather unfair.

We suggest that the administration take steps to remedy the situation by scheduling the Senior examinations as soon as feasible.

ANNUAL CONCERT GIVEN AT MISSION HIGH AUDITORIUM

Music Department Combines In Concert Presentation Tonight

The Annual Music Concert will be presented tonight at 8:15 in the Mission High School Auditorium by five of State's musical organizations. The concert will be under the sponsorship of the Music Department and the Music Federation.

Two instrumental organizations, the symphonic band and the symphony orchestra will appear with three vocal organizations; the Treble Clef, A Capella Choir and the Madrigals.

Treble Clef Appears

This marks the first appearance of the Treble Clef group, a new women's choral society. They will sing Rhodora by Braine, Clouds by Charles, and the Seagull by Stroesel.

The College Band led by Karl Ernst will present two symphonic works, the Norwegian Dances by Grieg, and the majestic finale of the Fourth Symphony of Tchaikowsky.

Symphony Orchestra

Two major musical selections will be featured by the College Symphony Orchestra as their part of the program. "Suite for Orchestra" by James Snyder, an alumni of State, will be given its premier performance. The symphonic poem, "The Wreck of the Hesperus" by Frederic Zech, brother of Mr. William Zech, instructor in the music department, will be played as the second selection.

Dr. Knuth will direct the Treble Clef, Mr. Zech the symphony orchestra and Mr. Karl Ernst the symphonic band.

GALA RALLY TALENT PARADE FRIDAY NIGHT

Mitchell, McCoy, Thorpe, Twohig, Elkin, Chandler, And Others Compete

Rally Talent Parade Stars will combine to give the outstanding program of the year this Friday from 7:30 to 9:00 p. m. in Frederic Burk Auditorium.

The contestants will include Carl Mitchell, vocalist, Alice McCoy, songstress from "The Character," Tom Thorpe, ragtime pianist, Dick Jensen, crooner and pianist, and Fran Twohig, who will add dance color to the program. Contestants who qualified for the finals at last Friday's rally include Jimmy Elkin, of guitar and vocal fame, Bud Chandler, the singing halfback, Helen Newell, vocalist from "The Character," Tony Calonico, operatic tenor, and Don Grasier, fiddling fiddler.

Outside Entertainment

The rally will also feature outside entertainment from stage and radio. Ronnie Drayer, State's own radio tenor, will lead the outside performers. Admission will be by student body card.

Three gold trophies will be awarded to the winning contestants of the final rally. The trophies have been obtained through the courtesy of Jenkel Jewelers, 150 Post Street. Following the rally there will be a "Junior Jam," a Junior Class dance to be held in the gym from 9:00 p. m. to 1:00 a. m. The admission price will be 35 cents per person.

CARRIES ELECTION BY SIX VOTE MARGIN WITH FEDERATION BACKING

493 VOTES FOR CLIFF WORTH DEFEATS 487 VOTES POLLED FOR ED SMITH; NEW OFFICERS INAUGURATED SATURDAY

Clifford Worth, polling support from 493 voters, scored what will probably be termed the most startling political upset in the history of the college when he defeated Ed Smith in the run-off election for student body president. Worth overcame an earlier Smith show-of-strength of 159 votes to win the election by the slim margin of six votes.

The outcome came more or less as a surprise in the face of the heavy lead given Smith in the regular elections last Wednesday. Accorded an almost two to one margin in the regular election, Smith was short 37 votes of the total necessary to make him the president of the Associated Students.

GATER, FRANCISCAN OFFICERS ANNOUNCED AT DINNER FRIDAY

By MARGARET SULLIVAN

Semi-annual Dinner of the Publications Department will be held at the Forest Inn on Friday evening, May 6, at 7:30. On this occasion, names of the editors, managing editors, and business managers for next year's Golden Gater and Franciscan will be disclosed.

At the dinner, the local State chapter of the American Newspaper Guild will award three pins for outstanding journalistic and literary accomplishments during the semester. Two of the pins will be journalism awards, one for the best news story of the year, and the other for the best feature story. Two local members of the downtown chapter of the News Guild will choose the winning stories from a preliminary selection made by members of the State chapter.

The prize-winning literary work will be taken from contributions made to the Orphic, a publication fostered by the Scribes Club. These contributions include short stories, essays, verse and drama. Judges for the literary selection include: Mr. Frank Fenton, Mrs. Ruth Witt Diamant, and Mr. Hugh Baker.

Chairman for the dinner is Jean Dooley; assisted by a committee composed of Connie Field, Margaret Sullivan, Frank Schwass and Tim Guiney. Howard Demeke, Director of Publications, will be master of ceremonies.

Credit for the election is given the campaign strategy of the Worth supporters in swinging the Music Federation solidly behind the president-elect.

Unlooked for was this apparent swing of a solid block. In the Wednesday election Forth needed just such support. The combined votes of Norman Zech and Worth totaled approximately 30 more than the total given Smith.

Speaking at the Low Junior dinner immediately after the election, Worth made the following statement to the Golden Gater: "Thanks a million to everyone who voted for me—and rest assured that I will make every effort to lead the best student administration possible."

Ed Smith, in a statement released Friday night said, "Well, the ballots are cast and the vote is over. You can rest assured that I will make every effort to further the college in every way possible. To all those who gave so wholeheartedly in support of my campaign I want to say simply 'thanks'."

The new student body officers were inaugurated at the Inaugural Ball on Saturday night at the St. Francis Hotel.

Franciscan Published

The 1939 Franciscan will be distributed to the members of the Senior class only, Friday, May 6, from the Franciscan office. The general student body will receive their books Monday, May 9, from Mr. Nee's office.

THE NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

The worst election campaign in the history of our beloved alma mater is over. A dull, stupid, boring week is relegated to history, never, we pray, to be brought up again. Compared with the Will Smith-Bud Decker campaign of 1937, our latest week of electioneering was like a dead jelly-fish to a lusty salt-water shark.

The size of the vote is hardly indicative of the low spirit registered in the election itself. The only reason that a great majority of our student body bothered to vote was that they were practically dragged to the polls by friends of the candidates involved in the fray.

OLD SPIRIT GONE

All of the old spirit noticeable in past elections was gone, being supplanted with tearful pleadings, cajolings, and a few other insipid and unoriginal ideas. Mourning clothes, dusky gray gloves, and long faces were definitely in style during the week, with funeral services especially reasonable to holders of San Francisco State College student body cards.

The only thing left for us to do is go down 1942 and drink two chocolate sodas and a pineapple milkshake, and try to forget.

ABOUT AMENDMENTS

Still on the election, we see by the papers that all of the amendments up for student body approval were given majority affirmative votes. While we would agree that amendments 1, 3 and 4 should have been passed, we were hoping that this student body would show enough sense of responsibility to see the dangers in number 2, the amendment which gave the California Student Teacher's Federation a vote on the Executive Board.

Whether you realize it or not, the amendment boils down to this:

The CSTA is in the same category as any other group, club, or organization on the campus. Since the CSTA has been given a vote on the Executive Board, EVERY ORGANIZATION ON THE CAMPUS HAS THE RIGHT TO DEMAND LIKE REPRESENTATION!

A PRETTY SET-UP

Now, wouldn't it be a pretty set-up if every group here did demand a vote on the Board? With something like 36 active campus clubs, wouldn't we have a nice Executive Board? All in all, our Board would comprise a mere 55 or 60 members. That's all, 55 or 60—when experts agree that our present Board is too large, that it should be cut down to seven members or even less.

If you club presidents have the best interests of your group at heart, we would sincerely urge you to go and demand voting representation at Executive Board meetings. Stand on your constitutional rights, point to the CSTA, and say: "How come, Mr. President, how come?"

Then watch the fun begin.

THE "JUNIOR JAM"

We see where the Ken Johnson-Lew Morris inspired "Junior Jam," held in the Women's Gymnasium next Friday night, is coming along in top-notch style. And no wonder, with the door prize that will be given away during the course of the evening's entertainment. The prize is a free tuition to be given to some lucky person, going into effect during the next semester.

They tell us that you don't have to be present to win the prize. Anyone holding a ticket to the affair is eligible to cop the bacon. From our point of view, it looks like a gala night and a sure-fire success.

SAGGITTARIUS SAYS—

It is generally believed, in these our United States, that the cream of the nation's crop of clean-cut young men are incarcerated either in West Point or Annapolis. It is probably true that a certain type of youth is interested in the military to the point of fanaticism and as such is able to fit into the sophomoric routine which is in vogue at both institutions. Bits of whimsy are floated in our direction via the cinema anent the "stout-fella" attitude of the embryonic soldiers and sailors.

These bits consist of displays wherein the misfit military man gets religion after being in the joint for awhile and begins to feel the spirit of the place impregnating his soul and there's the one where the chap is perennially scaling the walls about the place in order to see his girl friend with whom he has had a misunderstanding. All ends well in these cinematic versions of our military colleges and the fadeout shows the hero marching at the head of his company looking very grim while his parents choke back sobs of mingled joy and pride and his gal feels so PROUD that—gosh.

It would seem that only a regimented goof could put up with the peculiar routines familiar to these two schools. Sitting straight on the edges of chairs and answering imbecilic questions at dinner with the appendage "Sir" tacked on to every reply; living a life closely reminiscent of that of an Athos monk, and being disciplined physically so strenuously that the process begins to afflict the mental qualities are more bits of the training course which seem incongruous to interested observers.

There is no doubt that, insofar as learning the military part of the business is concerned, the graduates of these schools are among the world's best. The entire argument resolves into the fact that these students are not lauded for their originality in thought or action but only in their ability to perform things by rule and rote.

GATERS MEET JAYSEE

Golden Tide Racqueteers Meet San Jose Spartans In Final Tilt Wednesday

JUST DROPPED IN...

by Ernie Miguel
Sports Editor

Teams that are BORN—Not BUILT

This may seem to be too early in the year to start worrying about the future of the 1938 varsity Gater football squad, but one rule observed at almost all other colleges having a football squad is that SPRING is the time to start building a football team . . . teams are never built by waiting until a few weeks before the first game. . . .

Here at State the rule seems to be just the opposite of the old spring training principle. . . .

Co-coaches Farmer and Harden are so engrossed in their respective spring sports that they can not give the interest and enthusiasm necessary in a coach for the team to show any genuine interest in the training period . . . and then when the regular season rolls around, Staters wonder why they rarely have a winning gridiron squad. . . .

And the simple answer to queries in that respect is that the coaches have too little time and genuine interest in football to really BUILD a team before the season starts in the fall semester; that if they are not handed a team that is composed almost entirely of natural born football players or well-trained high school graduates, they put out the usual State type of mediocre, consistently losing team. . . .

A simple solution to the entire situation would be the employment of another coach in the Physical Education faculty . . . that coach to be solely occupied with football for the entire year . . . he could also act as instructor and relieve Coach Cox and some of the other overburdened State P.E. teachers. . . .

But most of all, he could spend the entire year in actually BUILDING a Gater football team, making even better players out of the good ones he already has, and making good players out of promising talent that would always remain undeveloped under the present system. . . .

Several years ago there was a considerable amount of agitation toward securing a NAME coach for State, but we don't think that paying anyone an enormous salary for the use of his name will get State

Gaters Attempt Comeback After 5-4 Defeat in Early Season Contest

By DOUG CRARY

All pepped up in an attempt to dump the San Jose State squad, and thus end the season with a .500 average, the State tennis aggregation tomorrow afternoon journeys down to the Spartans' hideout for a battle on the courts, to start at two o'clock. This match was scheduled for last Wednesday, but was postponed, due to the absence of the first three men on the Gater team.

In a previous meeting of the racketmen, San Jose won, but only after an extended battle which found them on the long end of a 5-4 score. A real thriller was staged by Jack Witt and Ed Harper in the first singles, with Witt finally turning in a victory for San Francisco. At the end of the match both players were so exhausted that they had to take time out to rest before being able to play in the doubles. It is interesting to note here that Santa Clara dumped the Spartans, while the Gaters trounced the Broncos twice.

It is possible that Billy Hammond, member of the Tide net squad last year, and who had been playing baseball this season, may see action tomorrow. In 1937 Hammond played either second or third singles, and reports that he is in good shape now.

Bad Final Near

By DAVE N. SCHUTZ

Two major upsets have changed the complexion of the current mixed doubles tournament being played noontimes in the women's gym. Shirley Ferman and Bob Bragg led the way with a victory over "Joe" Foley and Runar Stone, seeded favorites, while Josephine Flanagan and Doug Crary ousted "Sally" Scordelis and Bill Stein, who had been conceded a good chance of copping the title.

The win for Ferman and Bragg gained them the right to compete in the finals, and Flanagan and Crary are now in the semi-finals. The latter are paired up next with the team of Elsie Bernard and Carl Goldstein, with the winners meeting Ferman and Bragg for the title.

any more publicity or better teams than any well grounded and well trained football player from this college or any other college, as long as he sticks to the motto "Good teams are BUILT—not BORN!" the coaches we have now can't build them!

Four Years' Service Ends . . .

Competing in this last meet under the colors of the Golden Tide today in the Rams-State meet at Kezar are DARYL HOPKINS, Gater Hurdler and high jumper, and BILL HARKNESS, State pole vaulter. Hopkins has scored over 90 points this season, while Harkness has won either first or second in the pole vault in every meet this season. Both have been consistent point scorers for State in their four years of competition.

Final Skating Party Held At S. F. Ice Rink

By LEWIS N. JOST

The seventh and final ice skating party of the 1938 season will be held this Thursday, May 5, at the San Francisco Ice Rink, according to Tony Tassi, organizer of the skating sessions.

The Winter Sports Club had originally planned to hold ten sessions, but due to the fact that it is getting late in the season and finals are not far off, there will be only one more party. There will be 10c admission charged at the final meeting and only a student body card will be necessary.

Tassi intends to be busy during the next two months getting in touch with other colleges in an attempt to form a West Coast Ice Hockey League for next fall.

Blockmen Put Through Paces

By BOB N. OSEGUEDA

"Give 'em Hell" will be the byword of the members of the Block S society the week of May 6 through May 13 as Block neophytes are put through the paces in the regular semi-annual initiation week of new members.

A take-off on the usual costume worn by the initiates will be put into effect this year, according to Harry Robey, chairman of the initiation. New styles will be set by the neophytes, and they are expected to take hold on all the men students of the colleges.

Fringed pantaloons, with the fringe half-way between the knees and the hips, tied by a rope in the middle of the trunk, sleeveless and collarless white shirts, ladies' silk stockings, rolled just below the knees, a purple and gold ribbon on the white shirt, tied by a blanket pin, a babushka, and topped off by a flower in the hair is the stunning creation designed by Robey, connoisseur of dress, for the ceremonies.

Thursday, May 12, will see still another of Robey's creations become popular with the athletes, this time being a diaper tied with a blanket pin.

Climaxing two years of brilliant accomplishments and four years of stout hearted competitiveness Daryl Hopkins will bid adieu today to dual meet competition. Listed to capture three events and take second in a fourth, Hopkins will be attempting to add 18 points to his already brilliant total of 94, in his last assault on dual meet records.

The meet tomorrow will also mark finis to the dual meet careers of Frank Collin, star 440 man, Kenny Wilkes, ace sprinter and hurdler, Rolfe Leavitt, veteran distance man, and Bill Harkness, gridiron star and first ranking pole vaulter and javelin thrower.

Collin, who is the fourth highest scorer on the squad this semester, has been Cox's best 440 man this year day in and day out and will make his last attempt to crack the school mark in the 440 today. Wilkes, who has placed bangup seconds to Theofield, frosh phenom, in the sprints this year and who has been a consistent point winner in the low hurdles this year will make his bid for a winning place today. Rolfe Leavitt, former sprinter and middle distance man, will once again try to catch the flying spikes of Fred Kline, Gater distance star, while Bill Harkness will try to crash through to wins in the pole vault and javelin. All in all, it should be a good day for State veterans.
